Seeing students grow is the greatest joy educators can experience. When teachers have convincing evidence that their work has made a real difference in their students' lives the countless hours and endless efforts of teaching seem worthwhile.

The teachers will be taught how to conduct action research in the most facile way possible and they will also be taught the various types of action research in the field of education, including individual action research, collaborative research and school wide action research together with IGP, Training Design and Innovations made after the research has been made.

This seminar is timely especially in the implementation of the RPMS of teachers where they really be evaluated in their performance.
