Congratulations to the wonderful completers and graduates of the school year 2018-2019. This is your moment! My Kudos to you for reaching another significant milestone in your life.

Your success today is only a stepping stone into realizing your dream of being the best of what you can be. You can do more! There is still a big wide world out there for you to traverse – to show what you can do and to claim that you are the hope of your family and the binding force of your community in this world of diversity. Let this success of yours today be your stepping stone to further achievements. At the same time, think of your being a part of the diverse group of completers/graduates of the K-12 Curriculum of this school as a challenge and inspiration for you to have a happy, meaningful and successful life.

This year's theme "Unity in Diversity: Quality Education for All" reminds us that no matter how different we all are from each other, our education seeks to unite us towards the realization of one goal - that we receive quality, accessible, relevant and liberating education. This goal should give you more strength and stimulus to dream more, do more, and achieve more! Your role as a bringer of hope and progress in our country is greatly acknowledged by everyone. The future is not certain, the world around you changes every minute. Struggles to survive in a constantly changing environment is something you have to live with. As a 21st century learner, you need to develop holistically, embrace change and technological advancement and be critical and innovative thinkers. This may not be easy but let this not hinder you as you forge ahead. Be strong, hold on and let your faith in God and your commitment to service be your guiding posts in your journey ahead. Our country needs graduates who are competent, innovative, skillful and most of all patriotic – citizens who not only love their country but also love and are proud of their city and community.

My congratulations also to the school administrators, personnel, teachers and parents who have been with you all the way in your trials and triumphs as a learner. We must express our thanks to them for they have been the wind beneath your wings. Your success is also their success for they have molded you into what you have become now. May you always have the heart to recognize their efforts, hands to assist them in their hard work and minds to think and ponder on how to continue to appreciate the gift of love they have bestowed upon you.

Mabuhay and God Bless!
